PRESIDENT MAKES NOTABLE SPEECH

ASKS ALL PARTIES TO FORGET POLITICS AND WORK FOR AMERICA.

NO REFERENCE TO ELECTION

Loves a Fight and Has No Use for Thin-Blooded Men-Acts as Godfather for Daughter's Child.

Williamstown, Mass.-In a speech here Friday night before several thousand persons, who came from nearby towns to congratulate him on his reelection, President Wilson said:

"Now that the campaign is over, we must think of only one thing, and that is not of parties, but of the interest of the great country we all love. Let us forget all our differences and unite for common service. Only in that way can we work for the great nation that has given us liberty and peace."

The president's second speech of the day here was delivered before a crowd of men from North Adams. Pittsfield and other towns, who came here by automobile, trolley and railroad trains and marched to the home of Francis B. Sayre, the president's son-in-law, where Mr. Wilson is stay ing. The delegation surrounded Mr. Sayre's home and cheered until the president appeared on the porch.

"We are here to congratulate you on your re-election," said William F. Grenier, president of the North Adams Wilson and Marshall Club, in introducing the president.

Mr. Wilson, after thanking the crowd for "their generous outpouring," said he had come to Williamstown to avoid making speeches. "You will forgive me if I do not dscuss public affairs," he added. During the day the president was in communication with Democratic national headquarters regarding the progress of the counting of the ballots in the election. He made no statement, however.

The president spoke from the porch of the house and was cheered enthumiastically by the students.

Anxious to Forget Politics.

"I came here to forget the field of politics and for a brief rest. I came simply to visit my daughter and to attend a simple ceremony here to-day," he said. "Now that the campaign is over we may all address ourselves to the welfare of the nation, without thought of partisan feeling."

The president referred to his service as chief executive of Princeton University, saving he knew from experience that there was politics even in the running of a college.

"Politics," he continued, "Is after all a means of getting something done, of putting forward ideas. It is a fight, but the man who does not love the fight has no red blood in his

by a plurality of less than 1,000.

Mo. Pac.-I. M. Merger.

The proposed reorganization plan of the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain railroads, which have been in receiveership since Aug. 19, 1915, was approved at Jefferson City by the and killing the babies who accomstate public service commission. The reorganization will mean that the roads will be taken out of the receiver's hands as soon as the necessary legal formalities can be met.

The Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain, which have 7,000 miles of tracks, are to be merged into one system and incorporated under Missouri laws with an aggregate capital of $383,642,282 The commission's opinion approves the proposed capitalization.

The opinion, written by Chairman Busby and Commissioner McQuillin and concurred in by the other commissioners, declares the reorganization is expected to decrease the total funded debt by $51,938,058, or more than 18 per cent, and to provide a security through new first and refunding mortgages sufficient to meet all the requirements of the present and future expenditures of the system. In addition, it says the fixed yearly charges will be reduced from $12,951. 388 to $9,904,447, and that these will come "well within the earnings, even under adverse conditions." There will be an assessment of $50

Judge Walker sustained a ruling of the public service commission against railroads centering at Kansas City, in which the contention of the board of trade of that city that grain shipped to Kansas City from Missouri points is subject to state rates and not interstate rates was upheld.

Governor Gardner's Inauguration.

All the new officials of Missouri, elected Tuesday, will take office January 5, according to the board of election commissioners.

The new legislature will convene January 3 and will organize, electing permanent officers, before the new state officers are sworn in. This will require about two days. After the legislature has been organized for business, the old secretary of state will lay the returns from the elections before both houses in joint session. They will be added together and the winners confirmed. The new governor will then be led into the house by the old governor, and will be sworn into office by the supreme court. The other state officials then will be sworn in.

Pointer Judgment Upheld.

Judge Walker of the supreme court gave a decision Saturday affirming a judgment of $25,000 obtained by Lorenzo B. Pointer, 1817A Papin street, St. Louis, against the Mountain Railway Construction Co., a scenic railroad at Forest Park Highlands, upon which he was injured in May, 1910.

Vote on Amendments.

No figures are yet ascertainable as to how the various amendments fared in the recent election. Enough is known to state that Amendment No. 1 (known as the blind amendment) has passed; but the land bank proposition was defeated as was also state-wide prohibition. The vote against prohibition was not nearly so emphatic as was expected, while the land bank was only narrowly beaten. Federal legislation on th subject was blamed in some quarters for the defeat.

Secretary McAdoo in Missouri,

In connection with the defeat of the land bank amendment it is interesting to note that Secretary Mc-Adoo has just closed a visit to Missouri, where he is investigating the need of a federal branch of the newly created series of rural credit institutions. Twelve of these institution will be placed in various parts of the country, and a Missouri location may be chosen. Our imperial commonwealth was favored twice in locating Woodson Resigns.

At a meeting of the state supreme court en banc Judge A. M. Woodson tendered his resignation as chief justice, Judge W. W. Graves was elected to fill the vacancy Judge Woodson assigned no reason for retiring. He will retain his seat on the bench as a junior justice.

Under the rule of rotation, Judge Graves would have become chief justice January 1, by virtue of then being the oldest judge in commission. Judge Woodson, beginning a new term to which he was elected last week, would then have become junior justice.
